SEPTA is an Equal Opportunity Employer and a drug-free workplace. Candidates must pass a drug/alcohol screening test.
Building the Future

Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority (SEPTA) is the nation’s 6th largest transit system serving a 2,200 mile area in order to carry approximately 750,000 customers each workday. But to reach further and become the major driving force for the economic success of the Philadelphia region, SEPTA has transformed itself into a nimble, fast-moving organization. Old thinking is out and a new, streamlined structure has taken root, helping to build projects, expand infrastructure and move people more efficiently.

Industry and government agencies have taken notice, awarding SEPTA with the Pennsylvania Governor’s Award for Environmental Excellence and the American Public Transportation Association’s Gold Standard Recognition for Sustainability.

How Far Will You Go?

Since our mission aims to rebuild and reinvest for the future, you’ll do meaningful work in a sustainable environment to provide the people of the Philadelphia region with a world-class transportation system. As a progressive organization that helps drive the region, we have opportunities available at all levels in a wide variety of fields. You’ll find unique career paths that allow for interesting work with a 21st century mission. So whatever your background, your interests, your career goals, SEPTA, listed as one of Forbes Magazine’s Best Employers, will help you get there.
